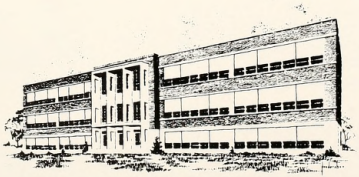
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA



THE PUBLIC LIBRARY
FORT WAYNE AND ALLEN COUNTY, IND.

The building pictured in the beginning of this book is Concordia Lutheran High School, built and maintained for the purpose of providing a secondary education in a Christian environment for the Lutheran young people of the community. This building, however, is only a part of what we call "Concordia". Without you, the students-the building, facilities, materials, and teachers would be useless and void. You constitute the heart, center, and very reason for the existence of this building.

The purpose of this book, therefore, is to give you a lasting memory of the days, and years which you spent under the influence of "Concordia" and to show that 'Concordia" is YOU! Yes....

CONCORDIA LUTHERAN HIGH SCHOOL

Office of Principal Phone: Anthony 0241

Dear Students:

As we are about to close the doors of the school year 1959-1960, feelings of joy and gratitude fill our hearts and minds. The good Lord, under whose blessings you have lived and learned for another year, wants you to feel a sense of achievement and fond satisfaction in accomplishments.

The learning experiences in and out of classrooms have richly contributed toward growth in true understanding and wisdom.

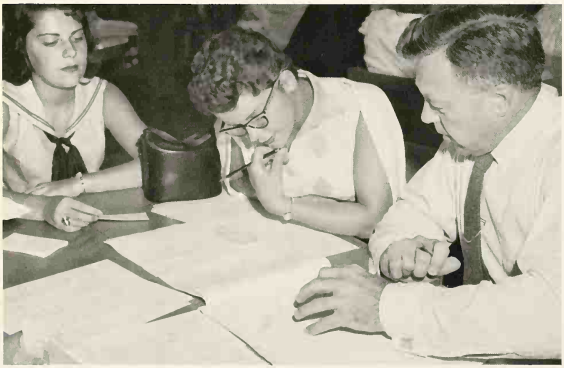
By deepening your insights in Christ's principles you have learned to love more devoutly your Savior and your fellowman.

Having grown in knowledge and love, you have also learned to assume more responsibility in serving your church, your school, and your community.

As your principal, I shall continue to include all of you in my prayers in the days and years which lie ahead.

Herbert F. Birkman

Member North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools



A schedule problem confronts B. Melcher and J. Heller, and Mr. Werner is helping them work out a solution. This is one of Mr. Werner's many duties as assistant principal and vocational counselor.

In addition to his duties as assistant principal, Mr. E. Werner this year taught solid geometry, trigonometry, and algebra, but his chief duty is in the field of guidance and vocational counseling. He says, "All education is guidance. I try to lead the students to a fuller realization of their potential. My guidance covers both the fields of scholastic efforts and leadership."

The Religion Department

At the right is Pastor A. Oldsen, the head of the religion department of your school. He has an M.A. degree, teaches freshman and senior religion, and is head of public relations at Concordia. Pastor Oldsen is conferring with Mr. R. Buls, also a religion instructor. Mr. Buls has an M.A. degree and taught you Religion in your junior year. He also teaches world history and is a sponsor of the senior class.

The religion department is an important part of your school. Religious convictions envelope the entire academic and extra-curricular program. Various phases of religious training are offered in the form of a four year course. Freshmen study the New Testament; sophomores, the Old Testament. In your junior year you study the history and founding of the Christian church, and your senior year is devoted to a course in Christian living. The religious training which you receive here at Concordia, is important to you, not only now but in the future, for it is a very important guide to your life as a Christian.

As an active participant in your school's religious program, you attended church services at Concordia Lutheran Church.

The English Department

Your English department, a required and essential part of your school, offers to you, the student, an opportunity to acquire the mastery of your language. After you have completed the three-year required course, you are eligible to take a fourth year as an elective. Stressed in these courses are the basic subjects of literature, grammar, and the all-important skill of self-expression. Whatever field, profession, or job you pursue, you will find that the mastery of the English language will prove to be of immeasurable assistance in your ultimate goal.

At the left is Mr. K. Jordan, head of the English department at Concordia. He has an A.B. and an M.A. degree and teaches sophomore and junior English. In addition, Mr. Jordan is the sponsor of your school paper, the LU HI VOICE, and one of the sponsors of the Gamma Rho Delta.

Mrs. H. Knoblauch (right) got you off to a good start in English as a freshman. She has a B.S. degree and teaches freshman English at your school. Mr. R. Welsh (left) is the sophomore and senior English instructor. He has received his B.S. and M.A. degrees. In addition, Mr. Welsh is a sponsor of the sophomore class and of the cheerleaders. Both Mr. Welsh and Mrs. Knoblauch are sponsors of the Gamma Rho Delta.

The Foreign Language Department

The foreign language department at Concordia, which offers instruction in Latin and German, is important especially to you who are college-bound. Both German and Latin are offered as electives, and both consist of two-year courses. The initial intention of a foreign language course is to give you a better understanding of your own language and a broader word knowledge, as well as teaching you the basic structure of expression in a language other than your own. A foreign language course is a beneficial broadening of your intellectual abilities.

Mr. K. Potratz (left) teaches all of the latin courses at Concordia, and he is the instructor of German I. He has received a B.A. and M.A. degree in liberal arts and classics. Mr. Potratz also is the sponsor of the Latin club and the junior class. Rev. O. Marschke (right) is the instructor of German II. He is a part-time instructor at your school and is the Pastor of Martini Lutheran Church.

The Social Studies Department

The social studies department consists of the elective courses: sociology, economics, world history, and physical geography; and these required courses: world geography, U. S. History, and civics. These courses help you by promoting your understanding of the society and world in which you live. They give you a broad and thorough preparation for your future as an active citizen. Mr. Lobitz sums it up in these words: "By exalting the dignity and worth of the individual regardless of his race, class, color, nationality, religion, or economic status, courses in social studies help to translate selected objectives into functioning leadership realities."

Mr. W. Lobitz has his A. B. and M. A. degrees in social studies. He is the head of the social studies department. He is sponsor of the National Honor Society, Social Studies Club, and supervises the book rentals. Mr. L. Baack has his B. S. degree in history and his M. S. degree in geography. He is the head of the attendance office, Concordia's athletic director, and the head sponsor of the sophomore class.

The Science Department

In the science department of your school you are offered three courses as electives. These are biology-the study of living plants and animals; chemistry-the study of matter, energy, and the chemical changes in matter; and physics-the study of matter, energy, and the physical changes in matter. These courses offer a basic foundation for all modern sciences and qualify you to pursue a higher education in this field. Just recently Concordia's science department was elected into the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and it now receives a traveling library provided by this association on a monthly basis.

Mr. J. Weinhold has a B. S. degree and will receive his M. A. degree at the end of the year. He teaches chemistry and physics, is a sponsor of the Science Club and of the freshman class. Mr. E. Meyer has received a B. A. degree and a M. S. He teaches biology and religion and is a sponsor of the Biology Club and freshman class.

The Mathematics Department

The mathematics department of Concordia is designed to help you to meet the onslaught of additional study in college as well as to provide a firm foundation for you whose formal education terminates with high school.

It offers some of the most basic building blocks for a fine character. Among these are the abilities to think logically and to reason things out for yourself. This is done through such courses as general math., Algebra I & II, geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry.

Mr. D. Reinking and Mr. A. Schwab pause momentarily from solving a difficult math. problem. Mr. Reinking has a B. S. degree in education. He teaches Algebra I, geometry, and business math. His extra curricular activities include coaching the freshman basketball team and the tennis team. Mr. Schwab has a M. A. degree in education. He teaches plane geometry, and Algebra II. He is the cross-country coach, audio-visual co-ordinator, junior class sponsor, and vice-president of the P.T.A.

The Music Department

Your music program at Concordia has two departments—choral and instrumental. The choral consists of a girls' chorus, a boys' ensemble—The Blazers, and various individual groups. The instrumental department includes the high school band and other small groups. Both departments regularly participate in school functions. This music program is open to all students showing the will and ability to play active roles in these two areas. However, it is not only the department, but also the student who gains from these activities. Here you have the opportunity to learn the appreciation of music and to further develop your musical abilities.

Mr. H. Hendrickson, (left) director of the school band, also teaches biology and general math and is the sponsor of the twirlers and sophomore class. Mr. C. Henke, (right) choir director, also teaches freshman and sophomore English and sponsors the boys' and girls' cheerblocks. Both instructors have B.A. degrees and are working toward M.A.'s.

Meet Rudolf, the red-nosed reindeer—the lovable fellow who "accompanied" the various music groups throughout the Christmas season.

"All together now--one, two, three," and the choir led the student body in song--Christmas carols at the holiday assembly to be exact.

The Business Department

The objective of business education is to prepare students to be professional craftsmen in the skills of typing, bookkeeping and shorthand. Courses offered in the business department are so vocational in nature, that if you are a graduate of this department you will need very little further training to fill a responsible office position. Or if you wish to continue your education, you should experience no difficulty in obtaining part-time employment to help you pay educational expenses. Typists, bookkeepers, and secretaries are in constant demand, even on the college campus.

Miss E. Ross, commercial arts instructor, dictates a letter as D. Radesk transfers it into shorthand. Miss E. Ross has received her B.A. and M.A. degrees. She teaches Typing I and II; Shorthand I, and advanced shorthand; and the use of business machines. Miss Ross's extra duties include duplication and part-time secretarial work. She is also a freshmen class sponsor.

The Industrial Arts Department

The industrial arts pupils, unlike the formal classroom students, work independently to prepare themselves for an industrialized society. The boys are readied for immediate employment in general industry. In the mechanical drawing classroom you learn to express your ideas on paper, in the shop classes you bring your ideas to reality. Your activities in these courses are under the supervision and instruction of Mr. H. Panning, industrial arts instructor.

Mr. H. Panning, industrial arts instructor, guides M. Koeneman in his efforts in mechanical drawing class. Mr. Panning has his B.S. degree, is the sponsor of LUMINARAN, and of the sophomore class. He is also Concordia's driver training instructor.

The Art Department

In the art department of your school the students are taught the appreciation of visual art and given a basic knowledge of good design in art activities. The student is given a chance to acquire new tastes and furthur develop his creative abilities. Together the teacher and student open the door to new ideas in art.

Mr. J. Sturmfels, head of Concordia's art department, teaches United States History and speech besides a four-year course in art. He has his B.S. degree in education and a M.A. degree in art. He is the director of the all-school play and the senior class play. He is a sponsor of the Drama Club, Gamma Rho Delta, and the junior class.

The Home Economics Department

The home economics department offers a three-year course to the girls of Concordia. The first year includes the study of food preparation, personal money management, sewing, and all related arts such as color schemes, balance, and proportion. The second year involves kitchen planning, bedroom decorating, advanced food preparation, food preservation, major clothing problems, and family money management. The third year includes child care and developement, home nursing, house planning, interior decorating, home management, and the study of consumer prices. The student does the actual preparation, work, and cleaning-up in all the phases of these courses.

Mrs. M. Schmidt is the director of the home economics department. She has her B.S. degree in home economics. She teaches home ec. I, II, and III. She is the sponsor of the Junior Red Cross and the sophomore class.

Venderly also is the line coach of the varsity football team. Mr. J. Diemer (left), in addition to his duties as assistant military instructor, coaches the freshman football team and assists Capt. Venderly with the rifle team.

Your military department, headed by Captain R. Venderly, stresses leadership in the training of our men of tomorrow. All freshman and sophomore boys are required to take military, and the course is offered as an elective to the junior and senior boys. This year the military uniforms were changed from blue to the official army green. Freshman instruction and drilling in military technique is done by the senior officers assisted by Mr. J. Diemer, the assistant military instructor. The department again climaxed its year with the annual military tournament.

Physical Education Department

Through individual activities and team sports, your physical education department is concerned with teaching you to take care of the body which God has given you. The freshman and sophomore girls participate in soccer, softball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, and folk dancing. The junior and senior girls are unable to have physical education because of our limited gym facilities. The junior and senior boys have a choice between military and physical education. Those taking physical education participate in the various seasonal sports, tumbling, and make constant use of the trampoline.

Mr. W. Koch has his B.A. degree in business and government, his M.S. in physical education. He teaches bookkeeping, history, and health and safety. He is your football and track coach, and assistant basketball coach. He is the sponsor of the Lettermen's Club and the senior class. Mr. J. Concordia's Vital Asset-- The Library

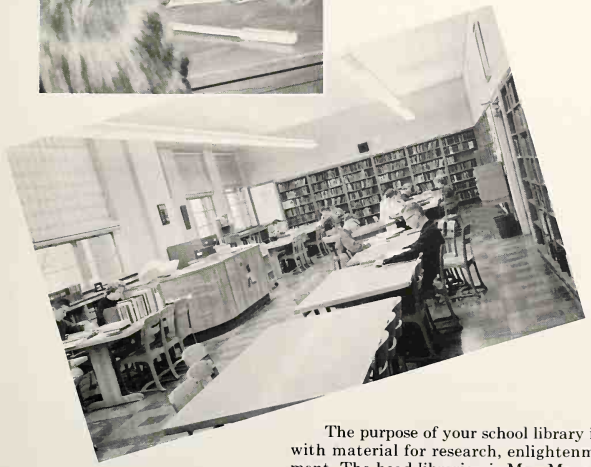
Mrs. B. Meyer, your school librarian, has her B.S. and M.S. degrees in education. Besides her duties as head librarian she does audio-visual work and is the sponsor of the library club.



The purpose of your school library is to provide you with material for research, enlightenment, and enjoyment. The head librarian is Mrs. Meyer who is assisted by your own classmates and friends.

The Student Council co-sponsored many record hops and parties which helped to make your days at Concordia full and happy.

The Student Council is the student government of your school, created to better the relations between students and school policies. It also helps in solving student problems. The president of each class is automatically a member of the council, and a home room representative is chosen by each home room. This group, cooperating with the P.T.A., sponsors the after-game parties and similar social events. The fall and spring parties are given by the student council exclusively. The council also supervises the arrangement of student parking and handles various business ventures. The council's sponsor is Mr. R. Buls.

"Tag Day" is the magic word in this exclusive organization. This is the day on which new members are accepted into the society because of high scholastic achievements. Members are chosen twice during the school year. The first group chosen consists of seniors and the second of juniors. Every spring the group puts aside the books and enjoys a festive banquet. Mr. W. Lobitz is the sponsor of the society.

Gamma Rho Delta, your English honor society, is an active and productive group at Concordia. Those who show exceptional interest and ability in the language arts, and have a high regard for things of cultural value are annually chosen as members by the English department. Every spring the Gamma Rho Delta publishes the Gammatus, a publication containing literary entries submitted by the student body. The spring banquet is the event to which all members look forward. At this banquet the newly chosen members are initiated into the group.

The Biology Club was organized to help biology students understand more fully the many aspects of that subject. The Biology Club and Science Club participated in a joint visits of March 12th. to various museums and points of scientific interest in Chicago. At regular meetings of the club, they use the laboratory to investigate forms of animal and plant life following which they discuss their findings.

The Science Club

Concordia's Science Club, sponsored by Mr. J. Weinhold, is trying to create an appreciation of science among its members. The club went on various tours; the special one this year was to Chicago. They also toured a local television station, Joselyn Steel Mills, and International Harvester. The club members also view films and hear lectures on scientific subjects.

The members keep your library up-to-date, and in this club they discuss new and better methods of operation plus evaluating their own work in the library. The members look forward to the annual High School Librarians' Association Conference, and at the end of the year they are awarded service pins. Mrs. B. Meyer is the sponsor of this club.

The Latin Club

"Amo, amas, amat," sounds very familiar to Latin Club members. Concordia's Latin Club has a dual-purpose: to further explore the interests in Latin created in the classroom, and to encourage friendship and fellowship among the students having similar interests. Mr. K. Potratz is the sponsor of this club.

The Junior Red Cross presents a chance for you, the boys and girls of Concordia, to help those less fortunate than yourselves. In addition to making favors and similar articles for worthy causes, the club holds an Easter party each year for the mentally retarded children. A new event this year was the Can Drive which was very successful. These canned goods were presented to the Welfare Department. The club also serves as "cheer sisters" to a resident at the Allen County Old Peoples Home. Different groups of the Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Mrs. M. Schmidt, hold meetings every week.

The "Lu-Hi Voice"

The "Lu-Hi Voice," your school paper, is an outstanding example of the accomplishments of a hard-working, progressive staff. The "Lu-Hi Voice" has the following as its uppermost objectives: to be a spokesman to the community for the students, faculty, and administration; to be an instrument of public relations; and to serve as a training ground for students who wish to develop leadership, communication and business skills. This is a staff Concordia can claim with pride. It is sponsored by Mr. K. Jordan.

This year, under the direction of Mr. C. Henke, the Concordia Choir has performed extensively for school functions and numerous out-of-school engagements. In the weeks prior to Christmas they sang for various womens' and mens' groups, private businesses, and churches. The weeks before the Easter season were spent in preparation for your Wednesday services at Concordia Church; Easter services; and for special programs in the spring, one-of-which was the school's musical, "Finian's Rainbow." The choir also participated in the "Fine Arts in Miniature." Here the Blazers combined with the treble choir to sing works of several great composers, and were accompanied at this program by the String Chamber Orchestra of South Side High School. The Blazers, Girls' Chorus, and trio have performed singlely and combined in the community and have brought Concordia's music program much recognition and fame.

B. Imler, J. Gouty, and S. Kassing, the girls' trio, delighted many with their numerous, talented performances. Here they give a short impromptu performance at the Christmas party, "Snowflake Sonota".

The Band

That special zest at pep sessions and the added feature at sports events is your school band. Its members meet daily to practice and perfect the art of playing together under the direction of Mr. H. Henrickson. This year the band has also become a marching band and has participated as such in several parades.

The Concordia twirlers, well known for their fascinating performances, are a definite part of many of your school's sports events. Their varied and skillful routines are a welcomed "half-time" attraction. In addition to these activities, they participated in several city-wide parades and similar public functions. Judi Hein, the head twirler, has ably led the girls despite the limited facilities available for practice. Their sponsor is Mr. H. Hendrickson.

Skillfully manipulating the fire baton is J. Hein, head majorette, who is part of a vast Halloween jack-o-lantern.

The Snap Squad

Your Snap Squad is the pride of Concordia. The job well done is the evidence of the time and concentration put into it. Members in action are examples of the co-ordination, interest, and ability necessary for the execution of precision drills. The Snap Squad performs during the half-time at basketball games as well as in exhibitions and parades. It is truly the show unit of the battalion.

Everyone waits in breathless anticipation for the Snap Squad's performance at the half-time and are always rewarded by the excellent exhibition.

The members participate in the production of the school plays. Their big events of the year are Drama Night and the Drama Banquet. Mr. J. Sturmfels is the sponsor of this club.

"George Washington Slept Here," was a successful production due not only to fine acting, but also to the Drama Club's proficient planning and work.

"George Washington Slept Here"

On November 13, 14, 15, the all-school play, "George Washington Slept Here" by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart was presented at the St. Paul auditorium. The production, presented in the round, was a hilarious comedy depicting Newton and Annabelle Fuller's dilemma upon moving into a huge, old farmhouse in Pennsylvania. Newton was especially attracted to the house by the fact that George Washington had slept there.

The effectiveness of the entire presentation was enhanced greatly by the excellent character portrayals by your own classmates and the efficient assistance of the Drama Club.

"Take Care of My Little Girl"

This comedy was presented by the senior class February 13 and 14, at the Concordia Senior College Auditorium. The play presented an interesting character problem facing a girl, Liz Ericson, in an exclusive and somewhat predjudiced college sorority. The play was comical and deeply thought-provoking by turns and conveyed a wise and hard-learned moral. This, as well as all the dramatic productions, was directed by Mr. J. Sturmfels.

"Finian's Rainbow"

"Finian's Rainbow," Concordia's spectacular spring musical, was presented on May 7th and 8th. The setting was in the deep South, Missatucky to be exact. The main characters, Sharon, S. Kassing; Finian, W. Shrubsall; and Og, J. Dickmeyer; are all from Ireland. Woody, played by S. Pfeifer, is the native hero and sweetheart. The Irish have brought the pot of gold from the end of the rainbow and have planted it in the hopes that it will grow. The plot evolved and revolved a myriad of excellantly performed solo and ensemble musical arrangements. Mr. C. Henke was the musical director and Mr. J. Sturmfels was the drama director.

Freshman Team

The Freshman basketball team has just begun preparation for future campaigns. Their recent season was not the most successful, but the knowledge and experience gained will be invaluable in the future. The Freshman coach, Mr. D. Reinking, attributes the low record to the lack of opportunity for practice sessions.

Beauty reigns supreme in this annual event, held this year on November 25 at the Concordia Senior College. Ron Ross acted as Master of Ceremonies at the crowning of the '59 Queen during the half-time of the C.L.H.S.—Decatur basketball game.

Three seniors and two juniors are traditionally chosen by the student body, with the crown going to the girl receiving the largest number of votes. Sandy Bennett was named this year's Queen, and she and her attendants were escorted through the saber arch to the throne by the R.O.T.C. officers.

These girls were chosen by you the students, and they represent another happy event in your lives at Concordia.

"We're cheering for the Cadets—Mighty, Mighty Cadets!". . .and they were mighty Cadets--winning the annual Holiday Tourney, and placing third in the North-Eastern Indiana Conference. The boys' "always-keep-fighting" attitude never let their fans down. Under the expert coaching of Mr. J. Mader, our boys reached the heights of sportsmanship. We can truly say, "We're from Concordia, couldn't be prouder."

The Cheer Block

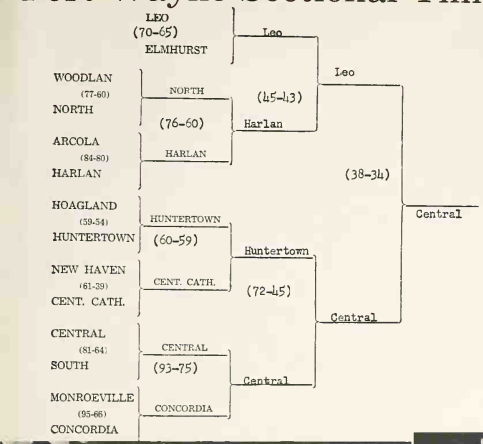
Whenever you cheer your team on to victory you are boosting sportsmanship, good will and school spirit.

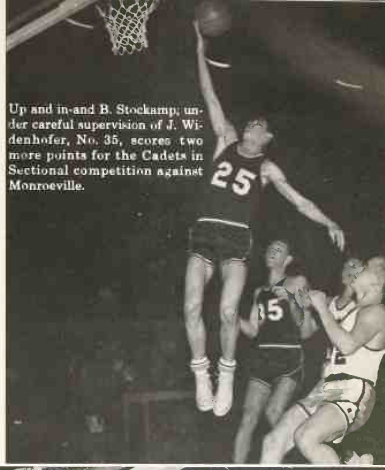
This is also the specific job of the girls' and boys' cheering blocks at Concordia. In addition, these groups perform various motions and drills to accompany the cheers, cheerleaders and band.

This year the cheer block was sponsored by Mr. C. Henke, and the officers were D. Myers, president, J. Armstrong, vice president, and J. Walde, secretary-treasurer.

We're Hoping!

Fort Wayne Sectional Time





Up and in-and B. Stockamp, under careful supervision of J. Widenhofer, No. 35, scores two more points for the Cadets in Sectional competition against Monroeville.

S. Hartman executes a beautiful lay-up with the approval of M. Wilson, No. 23, and the Cadet rooters.

Spring Sports

Due to the fact that your yearbook must be completed before the spring sports are fully underway, the spring activities will be forecast rather than reviewed, and the information included is that which could be gathered before the last deadline.

Cross Country Team

The cross country team, your "marathon boys" has a fall season which begins in August. This branch of track is a prolonged run of two miles over a prescribed and ungraded trail. Preparation for the sport is an all-year-round prerequisite. Most of the meets were held at Franke Park and the season was climaxed by an all-state meet at Indianapolis. Mr. A. Schwaab is the cross country coach.

Track Team

The track team, in a consistent effort to set new records and achieve new heights, provides the climaxing events of the school year. The events--running, hurdling, vaulting, jumping and shot-putting--involve a large number of team members. The returning lettermen were S. Benz, R. Alexander, W. Baughman, R. Stockamp, and G. Novak. Even though each boy competes on his own the total score is attributed to the team, Mr. W. Koch is the track coach, and Mr. J. Mader is his assistant.

Golf Team

Striving for "above par", "holes-in-one," and winning scores is Concordia's golf team, another active group this spring. The team competes against other Conference teams, and this season it participated in the Golf Sectional on May 14, and the Conference Meet, May 7. Mr. H. Hendrickson is the new golf coach, and the returning lettermen were T. Reiter, T. Theye, J. Dickmeyer, and L. Boseker.

Tennis Team

The 1960 tennis team, under the direction of Mr. D. Reinking, promised a spirited season with three returning lettermen and several new faces on the roster. The returning lettermen were S. Pfeifer, G. Rahden, and G. Novak, and the new members were J. Hansen, D. Widenhofer, D. Dow, with B. Feldes and T. Hansen as alternates. This skillful group of boys competes with other city and area schools and attempts to bring additional honor and recognition to Concordia.

Baseball Team

The batter scored, the spectators cheered, and the short but busy baseball season was again underway at Concordia. This year the team was coached by Mr. L. Baack, and the largely underclassman group of boys gave promise of a strong team for the future. The returning lettermen were D. Heinkel, R. Stockamp, J. Kleinschmidt, A. Colvin, J. Springer, and J. Hitzeman. The baseball team also competed against other N.E.I.C. teams.

Varsity Cheerleaders

A. Franz, J. Brandt, J. Ramming, and S. Kassing--your varsity cheerleaders.

Our cheerleaders, whether performing at football games, basketball games, or pep sessions, represent the sporting spirit of Concordia. Their able cheering and gymnastic abilities appeal to all. Their cheers of "Go Team Go," We're Proud of Our Team," or "On to State" can always be heard boosting our team on to victory and good sportsmenship.

Reserve Cheerleaders

J. Stauffer, J. Armstrong, and C. Lehman--your reserve cheerleaders.

The Rifle Team

More and more medals are constantly being earned by the expert marksmen on your rifle team. The boys' interest and ability have enabled them to become members of this team, which itself is a member of the National Rifle Association. Their team sponsor is Captain R. Venderly who has coached them through another successful season.

T. Reilly knows that precision, hard work, and skill are all necessary to become a marksman and to score another victory for the rifle team.

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association, better known as G.A.A. promotes athletic participation among the girls here at Concordia. Various types of sports comprise the clubs activities during their regular weekly meetings. The club's special events include the G.A.A. banquet, point parties, and splash parties. The girls receive points for attendance and also for outside activities. The various amounts of points make them eligible for numerals, a letter, and a gold placque. These awards are presented at the annual spring banquet.

Lettermen's Club

The Lettermen's Club boosts the athletic program of your high school by setting standards for its athletes. Requirements for membership include being a sport participant, earning a letter and thereby becoming a letterman. The main activity of the club's members is selling concessions at the basketball games. These profits go to the club for the purchasing of their letter jackets. The club sponsor is Mr. Koch.

In Memoriam
Susie Mae Dehnert

From the Memorial Sermon delivered by the Rev. Armin C. Oldsen

On February 22, 1944, there was born into the world a baby girl, who was given the name Susie Mae ...The tender care of loving parents provided for her early needs. ...God loved her too. ...Heaven, which is glad over the repentance of any sinner, rejoiced when the name of this child at her Baptism was recorded in the book of Heaven. ...There followed years of growth in stature and wisdom and in favor of with God and man. ...The circle of those who knew her and loved her became wider. ...More recently, during the few weeks she was able to attend Concordia, many of you learned know and admire her quiet sincere ways. ...For almost sixteen years Heaven watched over her, through sunshine and also through days that were sometimes rather dark.

Not long ago Heaven said, "Now Susie has lived long enough." ...There followed days of trail and suffering. ...Through it all Susie acknowledged the hand of God in the mercies she enjoyed and in the affliction that had laid hold of her. ...Earnestly we prayed for her recovery. ...But another, her Savior, was standing at the Throne and saying too, "Father, I would that they also, whom Thou hast given Me, be with Me where I am; that they may behold My glory." ...We have plans for the future; so does God. ...His plans are infinitely better, and so His prayer prevailed.

"The Workers Behind The Scenes"

The "Man around the House" at Concordia is Mr. Donald Stein, Custodian, here engaged in one of his daily "clean-up" duties.

The two charming ladies who busily occupy the school office and willingly lend their assistence to the administration, faculty members and students are (left) Mrs. Leota Roemke, and (right) Mrs. Lucy Holder. Mrs. Roemke is the secretary to Mr. Birkman and bookkeeper of activities accounts, and Mrs. Holder is the school bookkeeper.
